Take pride in what you do – Be faithful in your duties for God is faithful to you. Pay attention to the details for God is in the details. Turn your actions into prayer for everything can lead to God if we allow. What you are doing is service to God and it will open your heart and lead you close to him even when you are not aware of it. If you take pride in serving well you'll be surprised how this will start to affect your whole life. You'll soon take more pride in your appearance, your schoolwork, your sports and your relationships.

Altar Servers

Fr. Dwight Longenecker wrote:

You are the Angels before the Throne – At the Holy, Holy, Holy you should go to the step of the altar and kneel for the consecration prayer. At this point you represent the angels of God bowing before the throne of God in adoration. Yes, ordinary boys and girls represent the angels before the throne of God. Bow low at the consecration. Ring the bell with care and beauty. The way you worship at this point will raise the hearts and minds of all the people. If you are reverent and silent and sincere you will help everyone else to worship more deeply in the beauty of holiness.

Serve the altar with ritual actions – Make a bow before the altar. Make a little bow to the priest and deacon after they take the elements or wash their hands. These little ritual acts take the people into the ritual mindset. Ritual transcends our own personalities and makes us bigger than our ordinary little lives. When you serve in a ritual manner you therefore help everyone's hearts and minds to be lifted. Do the actions with solemnity and dignity. This visual language helps raise peoples minds to God. It works without them even being aware of it.
